

FAREWELL TO MARLINTON HIGH SCHOOL

Maybe it wasn't the best or the newest school building in the state but it was a GOOD school—filled with the memories of many generations of students. And when it burned it was as if a part of the heart of our community smoldered also.

So it is with deep sorrow that we bid farewell to Marlinton High School as it once was, while keeping present in our minds the thought that a school is not merely the building; but it is the people who work, loaf, laugh, and cry there. Even though the building may be gutted, empty, and practically nonexistent, the spirit of Marlinton High School will live on and on.

CONFLAGRATION

The year of 1967 will be long remembered by the students of Marlinton High. As you can see in the picture at the left of the page our Junior High was burned in June and one month later caught fire again. This building was the newest school building in Pocahontas County. This building was occupied by the 7th and 8th graders, Vo.-Ag. Students, The Board of Education, and also served as a garage for the school buses.

As a result of this fire the Board of Education had to purchase three Mobile School Units to be used as classrooms for the Junior High students.

At the right of the page are pictures taken after the fire inside the high school building. The top picture is of the Bookkeeping room beside the auditorium. The lower picture is of the stairway that leads to the auditorium. Note roof hanging over the stairs.

Tops Frankford

FRANKFORD — The Marlinton Copperheads collected their fifth win of the season here Friday afternoon by downing the Frankford Pirates 21-18.

The Frankford teams missed trying the Copperheads by three extra points which proved to be the downfall of the Pirates.

Frankford scored first on a three yard plunge by McClintic,

All-State nominee.

For this touchdown, the Marlinton club got started as they did from 20 yards out on a play by McCloud.

In the second quarter, Frankford scored again on a two yard play by Hefner but the extra point failed. The Pirates took the lead on this touchdown to 7-0.

CONFLAGRATION

CONFLAGRATION is a term used to describe a fire that spreads rapidly from one point to another, often in a way that is difficult to control. This type of fire is characterized by its intense heat and the large amount of smoke it produces. It is often caused by a fire starting in one area and then spreading to other areas, either by direct contact or by the wind carrying burning debris. Conflagration is a major concern for firefighters and fire departments, as it can be very difficult to contain and extinguish. In many cases, the fire will spread so quickly that it is impossible to reach the source of the fire before it has already spread to other areas. This is why it is so important to have a fire escape plan in place for your home or business, and to make sure that you have the proper fire extinguishers and fire alarms installed. If you ever find yourself in a situation where a fire is spreading rapidly, it is important to stay calm and follow the instructions of the fire department. Remember, the best way to prevent a conflagration is to take the proper precautions to prevent a fire from starting in the first place.
